

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
by Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: PRINCE VALIANT LOUNGES AT EASE BY THE FIRE, PLANNING TOMORROW'S SECRET DUEL WITH JARL EGIL AND LISTENING TO THE TINKLING OF ALETA'S CONTENTED CHATTER.

AND HE WONDERS IDLY IF THE SOFT, WARM, VELVET LIPS WILL BECOME HARD AND MUSCULAR WITH SO MUCH EXERCISE. FOR THE MUSIC OF HER CHATTERING IS ENDLESS, AND HE CAN MAKE NEITHER HEAD NOR TAIL OF IT, FOR SHE RARELY FINISHES A SENTENCE AND TALKS, PARTLY TO HIM, PARTLY TO HERSELF AND PARTLY TO NO ONE IN PARTICULAR.

CAN THERE BE A LACK OF SENSE BENEATH THAT SHINING MASS OF GOLD? THEN SHE LOOKS UP WITH SERIOUS GRAY EYES AND SAYS: "YOU FIGHT TOMORROW."

VAL SCRAMBLES TO HIS FEET: "WHO TOLD YOU THAT SECRET? HOW DO YOU KNOW THESE THINGS?"

"ON YOUR FACE AND IN YOUR EYES IS THE LOOK YOU HAVE WHEN FIGHTING IS NIGH," SHE ANSWERS.

"AND WHY SHOULD I NOT KNOW YOUR EVERY THOUGHT? FOR I LOVE YOU. WERE I NOT YOUR QUEEN, WILLINGLY WOULD I BE YOUR SLAVE. THERE IS NO SUNLIGHT, MUSIC OR LAUGHTER WHEN YOU ARE AWAY. DO NOT LIGHTLY RISK YOUR LIFE!"

WITH THE DAWN THE SMALL, SWEET GIRL WHO HAD CLUNG TREMBLING IN HIS ARMS HAS BECOME ONCE MORE THE WARRIOR'S WIFE. AS ALETA HELPS HIM ARM, SHE ORDERS: "NOW FIGHT WELL AND WIN QUICKLY SO YOU CAN GET HOME IN TIME FOR SUPPER."

AS HE RIDES TO THE MOST DANGEROUS... AND USELESS... DUEL OF HIS LIFE, VAL SHAKES HIS HEAD. NEVER, HE ASSURES HIS HORSE, NEVER WILL HE UNDERSTAND THE WAYS OF QUEENS!

BUT HE GOES FORTH ENCOURAGED BY HER CONFIDENCE IN HIM. SHE HAS GIVEN HIM COURAGE, YES, EVERY LAST BIT SHE HAD.

Keen Excitement Sparks Film-Thriller 'Malaya'

Excitement and adventure provide the keynote for "Malaya," new MGM production, starting Monday at the Empress Theatre.

Starring Spencer Tracy and James Stewart, the story tells of reckless buddies in a pulse-tilling drama laid against a sinister background of the Far East.

Stewart plays John Rover, newspaper correspondent who succeeds in getting U.S. government backing for a daring project to smuggle raw rubber out of Jap-occupied Malaya during the war.

He ties up with Tracy, enacting the adventurous and tough Carn-

Chrysler Strike Talks Progress

DETROIT, Mich., April 15.—(CP)—Chrysler Corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers reached toward a settlement today amid growing optimism of Labor mediators.

Federal and state mediators had hoped for a major break in yesterday's bargaining following an all-night session, but no new developments occurred. Both sides maintained a lid of secrecy over negotiations and released comments.

Change In Judging Of Cattle Urged

TORONTO, April 15.—(CP)—Judging of cattle should be done "on the rail" rather than on the hoof, Prof. J. C. Steeles said yesterday at the annual meeting of the Ontario Beef Cattle Producers' Association.

Prof. Steeles, director of the Ridgetown, Ont. experimental farm, said that although the showing of dressed carcasses might detract from the glamor of the show, it is common sense and would provide a "record of performance by beef sire."

By Bob Thomas HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Olive Carey, dynamic little widow of Harry Carey, is resuming her film career after a 34-year lapse.

(Olive, as her many friends in the movie world call her, is a pioneer of the film business. She started back in 1912, when actors were just beginning to covet among the orange groves of Hollywood.

"It was vintage the girl who had an illegitimate baby in the picture, she remembers. It was a little embarrassing to a girl of 16, but the look, whatever it was, came along."

As Olive Gilders, she has her first starring role in "Screwed Loose" in 1912. Her leading man was a handsome young Broadway actor named Harry Carey.

"But we don't fall in love then," she laughed. "He had a wife in New York and he went back there right after the picture."

After the first Mrs. Carey died the actor returned to Hollywood and again consorted with Olive in "Just Jim." A romance began and they were married.

MOTHER, 53, ADMITS BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

WARREN, O., April 15.—(AP)—After hiding from newspaper men and glowing rappers for four months, Mrs. Clarence R. Leamy, 53, re-appeared and called a press conference the other day to announce that she and her 60-year-old husband have their first baby.

The infant, Caroline, arrived Dec. 8.

Fairbanks Reports

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Movie Actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr. quoted President Truman as telling him Friday that the United States must furnish moral leadership in the western world. Fairbanks said he reported to the president on his observations during one month abroad as chairman of a relief committee and vice-president of the American Association for the United Nations, a private organization.

His retirement from acting was broken only once. She played a small role in a missionary in "Red-er Horn," in which the Carps travelled 35,000 miles through Africa. And she played in a few Westerns with Harry in 1935.

The actor died in 1947—about the same time the film career of Harry Carey, junior, was getting started. Now title has decided to exit on the family tradition, too. A longtime friend, Ward Bond, said he got the role of L. Wade in "Mail With No Return."

Hoover Plant One Of West's Finest

Ranks High As Self-Contained Manufacturing Establishment

The Hoover Machine Company, manufacturers of the "Northwest" line of truck bodies and trailers, is one of the finest self-contained manufacturing plants of its kind in Western Canada.

The plant is now supplying units to trucking companies, furniture movers, bottling companies, packing plants, drilling companies, oil companies and allied industries. To satisfy this wide range of requirements all units have been especially engineered to fill specific needs.

For its transport manufacturing—also for its oilfield equipment and service and general manufacturing—the plant is well equipped with heavy-duty special purpose fabricating machines of all types. This equipment includes a 12-foot shear and 12-foot brake and a heavy-duty set of steel forming rolls. The brake was bought to the plant from a Knier shipyard at Richmond, Calif.

Structural assembly is done by the welding process, both manual and automatic. All are welding equipment is standardized and includes a large range of machine capacities, together with an automatic 1200 ampere immersed arc welding setup with universal lifting fixtures designed by the Hoover Machine Company. Gas welding outfit and also end weld capacity are available when required.

This complete range of modern manufacturing equipment enables the Hoover Machine Company to supply the most modern techniques available.

ENGINEERING
A fully qualified engineering staff designs basic models to suit the conditions of western operators under western conditions. Scale models are developed and pre-tested; polished and then standardized. The models are then fabricated in the "Northwest" line of units. The staff includes graduate mechanical and metallurgical engineers who guide the workers through the development stages to final specifications.

MANUFACTURING
The design engineering and manufacturing of "Northwest" bodies and trailers is done completely at the Hoover plant at the principal factory. The frames are welded into solid units in the plant, preventing warping and cracking. Steel cross rails and end rails for maximum floor support and correct body alignment, even under the most severe areas. Steel rail rails protect side panels and assure long life. Options are available to enable the operator to select the exact body type, length, fittings and assemblies required. Hoover's engineering facilities enable design modification right on the spot to meet special requirements. The plant has already built many units with special modifications to meet specific needs of western industry.

SPECIFICATIONS
The Hoover sales department has issued a complete catalogue describing the various models and their specifications, together with actual photographs of the units. These are available through the manufacturers in the district. Waterloo Industries Ltd., of Edmonton, Calgary and Dawson Creek.

Oil Camps Use Trailers

A major operation of the Hoover Machine Company was the recent completion of a series of trailers for use by geological companies engaged in oil survey work in Canada. The trailers were designed and approved by the United States Geological Survey.

Each series of units provide a complete mobile camp with its own electric power, plumbing facilities, laundry equipment, kitchen, dining room, offices and sleeping quarters with almost as much comfort as found in any modern home.

The "Northwest" crew camps have been operating far north in the Slave Lake area and other points. Design specifications have proven to be sound and economical in operation.

Prisoners Rewarded For Firefighting
MONTREAL, Mont. (UPI)—Eight prisoners who risked their own safety to fight a fire in jail got a liberal reward—a week at home.

There wasn't a place else for them. The fire destroyed the Montreal County court house, which contains the jail.

Sheriff Harry Holmgren said: "The time they spent at home will count toward their sentences. I watched these boys grow up and I trust them."

Late Start
Mr. Moore who claims episodes and even sings with Bing Crosby in Paramount's "Mr. Moore" didn't become a film star until he was 30. He came to Hollywood on a vacation in 1940 and has been making movies ever since.

TRIBE GETS HYPO CRAZE

BLOOMFONTEIN, South Africa (UPI)—Reports of enormous diphtheria death tolls in Bantustan villages recently sent medical orderlies hurrying to the scene, ready to deal with a major outbreak. The entire population turned out to meet them—and receive diphtheria injections—but the medical orderlies found few or no cases of diphtheria.

They found, instead, that Basuto tribesmen will do almost anything to get an injection, because they like it. Any deaths from whatever cause are attributed to diphtheria and doctors are having great difficulties in checking on epidemics—true or imaginary—that have broken out in the territory.

Visits Hypnotist, Then Weds Him

JOHANNESBURG, (UPI)—When Miss J. Strauss of Johannesburg went to a city hypnotist for treatment she did not dream it would end in romance. In fact, she went to him as a "last resort" after four years of illness.

Now she and Salma Ferreira, (nee of Johannesburg), have a wedding planned.

Mr. Ferreira says his fiancée was one of his most difficult patients. It took 35 sessions before she succumbed to hypnosis. By the time he had cured her of nervous disability she was "crazy" and practitioner had become friend.

The hypnotist laughs at the suggestion that he "influenced" his future bride into the romance. Hypnosis, he says, can produce momentary hallucinations "but not such a big one."

Carp Net 'Lowly' To The Fisherman

STANDISH, Mich.—(UPI)—Some people call those big ugly fish "the lowly carp."

But not the hardy commercial fishermen who venture out on frozen Saginaw Bay with their delicate all nets.

These cold-blooded men rate the sluggish carp on the top of "At eight cents a pound, that should make care of the 'lowly' label."

Fishing some three miles out through 14 inches of ice, the commercial crews are dragging in the popping fish and selling them for eight cents a pound.

In cold, clear water the fish are firm-fleshed and sweet tasting. Carp pulled in here average seven pounds apiece, but big ones sometimes go as high as 40 pounds.

The "lowly" line now includes city delivery bodies, dump bodies, platform bodies, beverage bodies and van bodies in many designs to meet the requirements of various industries. In addition, the company is now introducing a line of semi-trailer vans, tanker platform stake and lowbed semi-trailers for heavy industry.

"Northwest" truck bodies and trailers have been designed to meet the demand for a competitively priced product while still maintaining the highest standards of quality and craftsmanship.

The Hoover Machine Company has, since the reorganization of the company, been actively planning and constructing prototypes of truck bodies and semi-trailers. For over a year, plans have been on the drafting board and with the development of actual models, tested on Western roads, the company now announces a complete line of truck bodies and trailers under the trade name "Northwest."

The company has already supplied truck bodies to transportation companies, parking houses, furniture movers, the oil industry and many other concerns. The successful operation of these bodies has resulted in the expansion of the manufacturing processes to a major scale permitting a much wider range of models.

NOW CANNED FISHWORKS

HOULIHAN, Cal.—(UPI)—Prof. H. Forrest Davis of the local high school biology department reports that loach is excellent in its unusual adaption, eating live earthworms for fishermen.

Davis operates the Bliss earthworm hatchery here. In co-operation with the American Can Company, he developed a process for packing live worms for fishermen trying their luck in Colorado's mountain streams. The worms are sent through sporting goods stores under the slogan, "Fish fight for worms that squirm."

The worms are packed in cans about the size of large dry mustard containers. A mixture of peat moss and soil makes them feel at home, and small perforations at one end enable the worms to breathe.

Two practitioners hold a mistaken view of the position, the commission of the National Health Service is asked to council of the National Health Service. "The request of the commission for use in testing drugs and appliances. All doctors but two setting a trap for the chemist, but asked for these test prescriptions only to confirm that he is dispensing in accordance with his agreement."

Import Of Alberta Gas Is Opposed

Oil Official Says Washington Exploration Would Be Slowed

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 15.—(AP)—The proposed piling of natural gas from Alberta fields into Washington state was opposed yesterday at a hearing before the state legislative council's sub-committee on natural resources.

The opposition, which included representatives of the state's oil and gas industry, said that the state's oil and gas reserves are sufficient to meet its needs for the next 20 years. They also said that the state's oil and gas industry would be slowed by the proposed gas importation.

John Scully, representing Governor Langley on the group of state officials and others who have been drafting the code, said he was convinced that the oil companies had been putting down their exploratory holes in the state and were not looking for products.

Oil Eventually

Previously Sheldon Glover, state geologist, had declared he was convinced that it would eventually be found in the state in commercial quantities.

The sub-committee heard pro and con arguments on a proposed state oil code which was the subject of the hearing. Proponents said it was based on a model law developed from the experience of other states and would regulate and encourage an oil industry in Washington.

John Scully, representing Governor Langley on the group of state officials and others who have been drafting the code, said he was convinced that the oil companies had been putting down their exploratory holes in the state and were not looking for products.

Polio Victims Courageous

ATLANTA (UPI)—Clyde Duncan is the first link in two ways between polio victims and the world as most people know it. He is the 22-year-old ambulance driver who meets polio victims at the city and two Atlanta, Georgia, hospitals. This is the last person they see before entering the "Warm Springs" clinic for treatment, and when he brings them back here it is the last person they see before trying to extricate back to normal life.

It doesn't depress Duncan to come in daily contact with victims of the dread disease. He said it gives him a "daily glimpse of hope and courage."

He married a pretty infirmity, the former child of a Richmond of Mount Vernon, Ill. He met her at the union station here in November 1941, while taking her to Warm Springs.

Trolley Riders To Get Briefings

PITTSBURGH—(UPI)—The Pittsburgh Railways Co. is trying to give the public more for its money than just a ride.

In a circular letter to all trainmen, the company directed them to tell the passengers more about what is going on up front.

Like airline passengers who get little bits of information on the weather, altitude, speed and course, trolley riders will be getting informal briefings.

The trainmen probably won't turn to tell the passengers "Well, folks, we're coming through Soho at 18 miles an hour into a headwind of 12 miles an hour at an altitude of three feet."

But the operators are urged to tell the huddled masses in trolley trolleys what happened when the car comes to a dead halt.

The company recommended such phrases as, "There will be a short delay, we have mechanical trouble," or "we're stuck by a fire engine, we'll be on our way in a few minutes."

Management said it is not necessary to yell out just tell the first few passengers in line what will travel soon to the rear of the car.

No Extremist

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, who leaves United States Atomic Energy Commission today said the hydrogen bomb isn't like a firecracker you can hold in your hand or, at the other extreme, something that will destroy all life on earth.

Strauss told reporters at a late, well-pressed conference that it is his own feeling that extreme statements about the project are unwarranted. He said that the hydrogen bomb is "not a firecracker you can hold in your hand or, at the other extreme, something that will destroy all life on earth."

Spanish Bonus

MADRID, Spain, April 15.—(AP)—The government Friday approved a cost of living bonus of 20 per cent of basic salary for all workers employed in Spain's candy and ice cream industries. A similar bonus already has been granted bank employees and is expected to be extended to most other workers.

Poet For Visit

BOSSES BALK AS WORKERS CARRY ON $10 Licence Fee Seen To Develop Television

BIRMINGHAM, England, April 15.—(Reuters)—There's a strike with a different angle at a factory near here—managers have stopped work, while the workers are carrying on.

The managers are protesting against dismissal by the Royal Commission, which is investigating the strike. The Royal Commission is investigating the strike, which is being held in a "high-handed" manner.

The firm, air production development, became known as the "Honey" family. Last year when the employees offered to work Saturdays to add the export drive.

OTTAWA, April 15.—(UPI)—not express any opinion on the matter.

A. D. Dunlop, chairman of the CIBC board of governors, indicated Friday that if Canadians are to pay a licence fee for television it will amount to about $10 a year.

In testimony before the Royal Commission on Air and Science, Mr. Dunlop said that the CIBC had called for a study of the development of television in Canada.

The very best literature from the book-of-the-month club has the Capitol listed as favorite to run away with the Kentucky Derby next month.

And form players in this oil capital will naturally hope that the new of the same time line is a quarter of the size in the run for the house.

Having attended a dog show earlier this week, this student of grammar syntax makes the following observations on current trends in the canine world:

A new trend in demand that formerly is the Chow-Chow. Most people being what they are, fancier of that dog are now in a daze.

Maliffs are also on the decline. Lovers of these big, gentle dogs are signing, somewhat unhappily, "Maliffs are dead, cold ground."

They're still calling dogs by long and involved names. The blue-nosed, wavy-haired dog of the week was named, for example, Ch. Murgessie Monty of New Hampshire.

Members' suggestions for an Italian greyhound, Ch. Holy Mackerel, of St. Louis.

Now that Ken Samis has officially been named the first Edmonton Dodge, the Dodge is now the first of its kind in the world.

It's a Dodge, the Dodge is now the first of its kind in the world. It's a Dodge, the Dodge is now the first of its kind in the world.

PHIL SAMIS . . . Pucks and Protons

MARRIED LAST WEEK

Samis Studying At Duquesne

By Dick Beddoes

Add social notes: Mr. Phil Samis became the husband of Miss Gwen Colvin in an early spring ceremony one day recently in Oshawa, Ontario.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Samis of Edmonton.

The happy couple will reside in Philadelphia, where the groom is studying in chemistry at Duquesne University, and where he formerly played hockey for the Hornets of the American Hockey League.

And to Earl Samis can add another chapter to the life story of his son, who left Edmonton some years ago to chase pucks on foreign hockey lands.

Up till now he's been doing pretty well. And between pucks and pines the 25-year-old Samis is better than most young men in the hockey trade.

Geddesman Samis played juvenile hockey with the Maple Leaf athletic club, then graduated to junior ranks in eastern Canada with Toronto St. Mike's and Oshawa Generals.

As a professional, the Edmonton product, frustrated between Pittsburgh and Toronto Maple Leafs, played several games with the latter club when it was creating hockey history by winning three Stanley Cups.

One day last winter Leaf general manager Con Smythe wanted to see the youngster, "Hockey a child" of the Cleveland Barons.

In the bargaining for Red, the camp Toronto leader bartered Samis to the Cleveland club. Thus, next winter Samis will be leaving for the United States on behalf of the Barons.

This is a talent for which the general manager of the Barons is especially adapted. He weighs it, too, as evidenced by the 180 pounds he was awarded in penalties two seasons ago.

It is hoped that the former Maple Leaf has an easier time handling his new team's hockey than he could be expected to handle.

BOSTON RED SOX SIGN KEN KELTNER

BOSTON, April 15.—(BUP)—Third baseman Ken Keltner, unconditionally released by the Cleveland Indians this week, agreed to a contract with the Boston Red Sox today.

The 23-year-old Keltner was to come here as soon as possible to sign a contract that was settled during a telephone conversation with Sox general manager Joe Cronin.

A star with the 1948 world champion Indians, Keltner was made a free agent by manager Lou Boudreau who said he thought that Al Rosen was a better man for the third base job.

Lethbridge Wins Extended Series

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 15.—(CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs last night won the Western Canada intermediate hockey championship in breath-taking style with a 3-2 victory over Melville Millionaires.

Hee Negroello was the hero of the thrilling game when he pumped home the winning run with a three-run homer in the 13th inning.

The score was tied 1-1 at the end of the first period, with the Leafs leading 2-1 at the end of the second. Twelve penalties were handed out during the game.

The help of some loose defence work by the Leafs, Chernoff reeled up the boards to sink Don Abel's shot.

Leafs tied the score at 1-1 on a beautiful cross pass by Siray, who split the Melville defence before beating Fred Smith with a hard shot.

Leafs scored the only goal of the night's single second period. Kibbas slipping the rubber past Smith after Guile Field, Lethbridge native, scored.

After peering Carl Sorokob from all angles, Millionaires tied the score late in the third period when Gary Battie hit the puck into the net from a wild scramble.

With Chernoff and Siray serving roughing penalties, Negroello scored the winner when he picked up Bill Oates's pass in centre ice and blasted a low shot from 30 feet.

With 40 seconds of play remaining, Smith was yanked from the net and six attackers were sent into the hallway but the Leafs held on until the final minute.

HOLIDAY FROM HOCKEY

Reg Clarkson, who paced the Big Four baseball league in a half dozen or so departments last season, will not be back in the Edmonton-Toronto-Calgary circuit this year.

Currently training with Vancouver Capilans of the Western International League, Clarkson has made a fine impression on manager Bill Bremner. It's expected that he will open the season in centre field.

And while Clarkson has been willing with the Caps for the past three weeks, spring training for Edmonton clubs in the Big Four circuit wasn't commenced till Sunday. General manager Ken Samis of the Dodgers announced last night that his club will hold its first practice at Renfrew Park tomorrow between 2 and 4 p.m.

Clarkson was the regular second baseman with the champion Cubs of the Big Year a year ago. He had a terrific season as he found the pitching in the Alberta semi-league just as he liked. He finished with a sack mark of 336, while topping the league in nearly all departments.

In the meantime, Clubs, as such, have withdrawn from the Big Four circuit. Clarkson has been seen by Samis and Carl Pines.

JACK WINS BATTLE OF EX-CHAMPIONS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—A former lightweight champion, Beau Jack of New York City, last night was awarded a technical knockout in the sixth round over Lew Jenkins of Philadelphia at Uline Arena.

The fight was stopped midway in the fifth frame when Jack pounded a hard right below the belt, and Jenkins fell to the canvas.

After a five minute pause, referee Ray Bowen awarded the former Augusta shoe shine boy the fight when Jenkins' handlers wouldn't let the 1941 lightweight king continue.

Submarine Atom Engine Gets Priority

WASHINGTON, April 15 (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today a high-priority project to build an atomic engine for submarines.

Simultaneously, the commission shifted some of its top research work to Hanford, Wash., on work on an "expanded" production program that may be connected with the hydrogen bomb.

To free manpower and resources for both projects, the AEC indefinitely postponed construction of an atomic plant near West Milford, N.Y., which was being designed to produce industrial power on an experimental basis.

CHANGES MADE

Officials said the sweeping results of the research program reflects "changes in the international picture"—specifically, the Soviet Union's new atomic weapons.

The changes involve personnel and facilities of the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory at Roseton, N.Y., which is now used by the AEC by the General Electric Co.

General Electric scientists will begin work at once on a land-based prototype of an atomic engine for submarines. Without comment on so many words, the AEC made clear that it will be aimed primarily for use in submarines.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. already is working on a land-based prototype of an atomic engine for submarines. Without comment on so many words, the AEC made clear that it will be aimed primarily for use in submarines.

Quebec Film Wins Award

TORONTO, April 15 (CP)—Quebec's "Evolution" took top award in the Canadian Film Awards for their feature-length production "Le Curé du Village" (The Village Priest). J. R. Kilday, director of Canadian Film Awards, announced Friday night.

Terre de Ciel, a National Film Board production, won the first award for theatrical shorts and was cited for the lyrical quality of its photography and dignity of characters. Summer for Kids, a second film award entry in the same class, won honorable mention.

Largest entry list was in the non-theatrical classes. In the animated action, Science At Your Service, a National Film Board production, named out Zero de Conscience (Winter Blindness) made by Crawford Films.

Family Circle took first prize in the non-theatrical class, while the National Movement Picture was chosen winner in the amateur field.

Special awards were given to Regine Mull Care, by Norman Mc Laren and Primitive Artists of Haiti, a joint production of Jean Benoit and Andre de Tonnancour.

Tucker Planning Appeal Against Suit Dismissal

REHINA, Sask., April 15 (UPI)—Water Tucker, leader of the Liberal party in Saskatchewan, planned today to appeal a court decision against him in a suit dismissed by the court.

Tucker filed notice of appeal on grounds that the trial judge misdirected the jury when the case was dismissed at Prince Albert last November. The appeal was expected to be heard next week in the Saskatchewan court.

The action arose from a speech Tucker made during the 1956 provincial election campaign.

Ontario Growers Will Meet To Talk Prices

TORONTO, April 15 (UPI)—The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association scheduled today a meeting of about 100 growers to discuss prices and subsidies before making a delegation to Ottawa. Growers said they were for (1) lower prices for each commodity and (2) a plan where federal subsidies are paid growers.

Railways Will Seek Still Another Increase

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP)—Another clash in the 31-year-old struggle over railway freight rates will open here Monday.

The railways are going before the board of transport commissioners seeking a rate increase—this time a small one—and the move will be opposed by seven provinces.

The companies are asking that a 10 per cent increase granted in a 1948 application for 20 per cent should be limited to the full amount of the application.

Meanwhile, the seven provinces—Alberta, Ontario, Quebec, and Newfoundland—have appealed to the cabinet against that increase and will fight the further board before the board.

CABINET FILED

The appeal was filed last month with the cabinet, and so far that body has not given any indication of how it plans to deal with the issue. An appeal against a similar board judgment two years ago was referred back to the commission for reconsideration.

The board's hearings on the new appeal are expected to be short, since the question revolves around a single point on which the companies claim the commissioners erred in their 10 per cent decision handed down March 1.

They contend the board's error came when it found the Canadian Pacific Railway's yardstick for freight rates had a 1948 increase of "deficiency of $297,100 and gave a rate increase large enough to raise total freight rates on the basis of 1948 to $1,000,000." Granting of the railway application would mean an increase of 34 per cent over current freight rates. It would add about $1,000,000 to the national freight bill.

UN Secretary-General May Go To Moscow

By Norman Altshuler
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 15 (CP)—The United Nations secretary-general indicated Friday he will go to Moscow next month if he thinks a talk with Prime Minister Stalin or the advisers will help break the UN deadlock.

Tucker said he has no new evidence but he believes the possibility of a visit to Moscow, where the Chinese representative is expected to arrive today.

He said he will leave April 22 for Moscow where he has already arranged engagements in London, Paris and Geneva.

The secretary-general said his return from a Florida vacation last week has been confounded by the Chinese representative's arrival in Moscow.

Soviet deputy foreign minister and UN Russian delegate, Andrei Gromyko, said he is "not at all" opposed to UN action by walking.

DEPENDS ON EVENTS

He indicated his decision will depend on developments at the meeting of foreign ministers of the Soviet Union, France and Britain, scheduled May 5 in London.

Informal sources said the UN secretary-general is expected to discuss the Chinese case during the meeting.

The Russian delegate said he is "not at all" opposed to UN action by walking.

SHOULD ASSURE

Informal sources said it is unlikely that Liu would have revealed the possibility of a Moscow trip unless he had assurance from the Russians that if he walked to Moscow he would be invited.

Moscow talks, Liu indicated, would include, besides the Chinese case, the problem of atomic energy and hydrogen bomb control.

He said he would be invited to Moscow, and he would be invited to Moscow, and he would be invited to Moscow.

He said he would be invited to Moscow, and he would be invited to Moscow, and he would be invited to Moscow.

BUNDLES OF HUMAN SKIN FOUND IN U.S.

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Four bundles of sliced-up flesh were found yesterday in a Brooklyn street and a medical expert said the flesh was from the body of a man within the last week "after death."

Dr. M. E. Marten, Brooklyn medical examiner, said he had determined that the flesh was from the body of a man between 40 and 50 years old.

The bundles contained 33 separate pieces of flesh, wrapped in old, worn, wine-colored draping material. A patrolman found them on the sidewalk.

Bolestin Staff Writer
The wheat family's chief prototype which northern Alberta made famous is three years old this spring.

Saunders was one of the leaders among grain types suitable to the prairies, but nearly 100 farmers in northern Alberta who agreed to experiment with it are responsible for that recognition.

It was in the spring of 1947 that a license was granted for Saunders wheat by the provincial committee on grain research.

The committee recommended Saunders because, on the basis of 16 years research, it was two or more days earlier than Thatcher, had Marquis milling and baking quality, and was non-mutual resistant.

The wheat, named after Dr. William Saunders, first director of Dominion experimental farms, originated from the cross of 44th variety and was developed at Grains in 1928.

The first parent mentioned was a cross between Bore and Howard made at the Brandon experimental farm some time previously.

The Thatcher strain was developed at the university farm in Manitoba.

Both parents of Saunders are semi-rust resistant, 4-7 bushels per acre, and have a good quality of grain.

Saunders is a good quality grain, and it can be from both sides—I shall decide whether or not I am to go to Moscow, I am told.

Former Boston Mayor Granted Full Pardon

By Roger D. Greene

Meat Stocks Off

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP)—A 12,000,000-pound drop in Canadian meatstock holdings was reported Friday by the Bureau of Statistics. The bureau estimated that on April 1, packers, wholesale butchers and cold storage warehouses held stocks of 66,323,000 pounds, compared with 78,523,000 pounds on the same date a year ago.

On The Farm

It is highly resistant to stem-rust, leaf-rust and root rot and is moderately resistant to leaf-rust. When the new variety was introduced in 1947, only 250 bushels of it were available for seed.

But seed growers in Alberta, approved by officials of the Land and Agriculture Department, agreed to experiment with a few bushels each of the new variety.

By 1948 they had increased the seed supply of Saunders wheat to 5,700 bushels. By distributing the amount in four to six bushel allotments to nearly 100 Alberta growers almost 100,000 bushels were harvested in the fall of 1948.

In distribution, however, the majority of growers who experimented to make Saunders wheat agree that early maturity, better grade and suitability of Saunders to combine threshing make it preferable to most other varieties of the area.

Fishing Industry Record Expected

But B.C. Fishermen Regard Market Problem With Concern

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 15 (UPI)—British Columbia's $60,000,000 fishing industry expected record production in 1950, but faced the problem of finding markets for its increased output.

Industry spokesmen forecast a sharp upswing in Fraser sockeye salmon, as this year was the first in a cycle year run since the late 1940s. They were installed at Hella's Gate, Marquette for the increase and also for the increase of B.C.'s newly produced $500,000 whaling industry, threatened by a glut on the world market, posed a question.

IMPORTANT TO ACTION

Thousands of fishermen, cannery workers, shipbuilders and associate industries depend on the B.C. fisheries industry, which consists mainly of salmon, herring and halibut.

British Columbia accounts for almost half of the Canadian fisheries production, which runs well above the $500,000 mark. In 1949 salmon accounted for $300,000,000; herring for about $120,000,000 and halibut for about $60,000,000.

Whether B.C.'s white fleet of three or four killer boats will take to sea this summer would depend on the trend of the world market. The market for white oil and silver products has been very weak for a year, Souter said.

Factors quoted by Souter as causing the present slump were loss of oil demand for margarine, due to an increase of butter production in Europe, oil demand for soap-making, affected by the synthetic detergent into the cleaning field; disappearance of the market for vitamin "A," due to synthetic substitutes developed in the U.S., and re-entry of cheaper

In the mail fraud case, Curley was accused of conspiring with two co-defendants to cheat clients of $60,000 through a series of "fantastic lies" promising to get federal war contracts for them.

Confused Seasons

I often hear for days gone by before there was the talk. When I meet them it was no use. With fellow playing hockey. Once winter was the only time they played all games on ice. But now they play long on in May. Which isn't near so nice.

Handful of Notes

George Prudham, West Edmonton's MP and parliamentary assistant to Mr. R. L. Winter, is leaving this week-end for Ottawa after a brief Easter holiday.

On his new job Mr. Prudham is one man who can say he spends his summers with Winters.

Railroad Eddie Purcell says a lot more Edmonton people are getting the inside dope since the peepholes were cut in the Alby Macdonald hotel fence.

Man told me today he saw a woman poking the lens of a camera through one of those peepholes. With all this talk about spies it makes me kind of jumpy.

Question for Prof. Norman Rowan: Do ducks really know when spring is here? We can announce that spring is here. Nearly everybody in town is seeing duck these days.

Saw several flocks from a plane when I was flying back from Calgary the other day. But the darned things were flying south. Does that mean more cold weather?

Oh, well, it's nice to hear people talking about seeing ducks instead of flying cars.

Elegant Elsie says she thinks it's a shame that people are allowed to give lectures on wildlife. Stormed Elsie: "The low said about the wild life some people live, the better."

Poor Elsie gets so confused at times.

It was nice meeting Ted and Nancy Holmes in Fawns the other night.

Holmes run the Arlington Hotel in Camrose. They used to have a Rite Spot on Jasper avenue.

New Arrival Department

Traffic Const. Jack Moore is possibly a bit lenient with erring motorists the last day or so.

I know he's pretty happy because he's giving away expensive cigars. Reason: Baby daughter arrived Thursday at General Hospital. Going to call her Marsha.

His the second daughter in Moore family. Lynn is five years old. Marsha, mama and papa, all doing well.

Johnny Stix, the Yellow Cab Inspector, says he knows Edmonton's back lanes are well but he doesn't think that boats are needed as yet. That's why Johnny was puzzled at seeing a big canoe in the lane behind Northern Harward's Jasper avenue store today.

A pleasant goodnight to all and especially to people who have broken windows.

Regulations Mean Safety For All City

By ART EITNER
Bulletin Staff Writer

Edmonton is gradually becoming a safer city.

Very good building for a city to put up a building that offers a fire hazard or any other source of danger to the public.

Not only have there been amendments to the city's building regulations, aimed at making construction safer and more fire resistant, but the city architect and building inspector, Robert Dore, is tightening enforcement of the building code generally.

It's now illegal to use, sell, offer or expose for sale any gas piping, appliances, equipment or material not endorsed by the gas approval board.

FATAL HEATER

That change was made to eliminate such occurrences as the death of a woman last week because of gas fumes leaking from a defective, non-approved heater.

Recently, the plumbing bylaw was amended to provide that the sewer connection between the city line and any new house must be laid by a qualified plumber.

This is to ensure that the sewer isn't flooded as a result of defective laying of the sewer connection to amateur builders.

In tightening existing provisions in the building code, Mr. Dore's office must first be kept in the content that "cities are being built to burn."

When the time a prospective builder submits plans prior to getting a building permit for his commercial, industrial or home construction, the inspectors keep a running check on every detail that might indicate a fire hazard.

They check on whether the structure is located on the lot in such a way as to provide adequate lighting, ventilation and fire protection for adjoining buildings.

CONSTRUCTION

While the building is under construction they check at four stages to see that good building is being carried out by the contractor.

They check on whether the building is up to strength and won't crumble if a fire should break out.

Authority of Law Backs Car Checks

There's an iron hand in that velvet glove Alberta Safety Council extends today to motorists.

This is the opening of the province-wide campaign for motorists voluntarily to have their vehicles checked free at accredited service stations and garages.

VELVET TONES

In velvet tones Alberta Safety Council seeks motorists' cooperation to have tests made of brakes, lights, horns, registration mirrors and windshield wipers.

But the campaign is inviolate up on all cars which are not displaying the safety sticker. Drivers of unsafe equipment then will be summoned under the Highway Traffic Act.

The "advisory-general" department has instructed RCMP units in the province to commence their checking drive May 1; a spokesman for Alberta Safety Council said.

"Drivers of new cars are among those who should get their stickers early. Those drivers know their greatest danger on the highway and streets is from vehicles with faulty equipment."

"The police will be able to concentrate on those ill-equipped vehicles immediately after the stickers are placed on the cars."

Alberta Safety Council said it expects that 75 per cent of the province's 175,000 registered vehicles will have been tested under the voluntary program during the next two weeks.

This estimate indicates about 10 million vehicles will be checked during the first of this month.

In Edmonton about 30 service stations and garages have signed agreements to give free inspections. They have bought books of stickers, each serially numbered, at 25 cents a sticker.

"The safety-equipped motorist, however, is urged to get his sticker early. It is his responsibility to certify his car has been inspected. It is helping to pay the costs of the motorist who neglects his car in its 'unsafe condition' a common spokesman said."

SIGN OF SAFETY

SYMBOL of safe motoring will be this sticker on Alberta cars as province-wide check of vehicles begins today. Alice Hayes, 10831-80 avenue, attaches replica of sticker to windshield. Two weeks from now, cars without stickers will face checks at request of police.

Damage Award Of $900 Follows Road Accident

Damages of $901.95 were awarded Friday to Leo F. Ogger as result of an accident on the Jasper highway last May.

Justice J. A. Pallen, in a Supreme Court judgment, ruled operators of the second car, Edmund and Joseph Van Grinsven, were to blame for the accident.

Ogger was driving at night in quiet heavy traffic last May 24. He stopped behind a car parked ahead of him about 15 miles out of Edmonton.

The Van Grinsvens car crashed into his auto, driving it fifteen feet into the car ahead and driving both "some distance."

Mr. Justice Pallen held the Van Grinsvens were to blame for not slowing to a stop when they saw Ogger's headlight flashing ahead of them.

Radio Sale Helps Club

Edmontonites will be able to all at home and shop tonight for new things from kitchen gadgets to new cars.

The auction will get underway at 9 p.m. and will continue until midnight.

It will resume again Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Radio listeners will be invited to bid on $6,000 worth of merchandise including a 1950 motor vehicle, as well as electric refrigerators, car accessories, shop tools, household furnishings and clothing.

Alberta Nurses Get Bursaries

The announcement was made by Hon. Paul Martin, minister of national health and welfare, at Ottawa.

Bursaries were awarded to Catherine Kunk, Telford, Mary A. Mackintosh, Nanaimo, and Mary A. Macdonald, Edmonton, for a six weeks' course in hospital administration at the University of Alberta.

Federal government bursary was also awarded to Teresa J. Macdonald, assistant dietitian at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton.

MID-TERM BREATHERS FROM SCHOOL AT COAST
SCHOOL TEXTS were cashed away for a fly-away holiday by Joan Gibson, left, and Laverne Eddie. Girls attend Crofton House School in Vancouver, and are guests here of Laverne's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Eddie. Joan's home is in Vancouver.

Visitors See No Boom-Town

Visitors view our muddy roads, our dirty streets, our rapidly expanding boundaries with interest and some concern for Edmonton's future plans.

Travellers come from all corners of the North American continent to share the excitement of a fabulous boom town... and find us serious, conservative and almost completely disinterested in the sticky business of oil. But the visitors stay. They make their homes here... become Edmontonians.

Constant Conflict Seen In Edmonton's Attitude

"Welcome to Edmonton" campaigns have been haphazardly thought of a score of times... by a score of forward-minded citizens.

Churches, service clubs, business firms, social organizations have set projects to make visitors, new residents feel "at home" in our happy little hamlet.

In the past decade our little hamlet, singled out often by the glow from Calgary's more flamboyant attitudes, has stretched out into the sunlight of progress, industry, with an over-balancing influx of fortune-seekers.

Oil booms, building booms, population booms... have not cut much ice with Edmontonians.

With communities building, developing, strengthening, a gradual decentralization is taking place. This allows a "small-town" perspective to thrive... and who says there's anything the matter with a small town?

Many do. That's Edmonton's problem. There is the fasten, craning progress, excitement, development, city improvement... there is an equally impressive fasten, waiting to maintain the sleepy little university rapidly peaceful conservatism.

What to do?

COMBINES BUSINESS, PLEASURE

DEBAC'S NIGHTER Mrs. T. P. is a Virginian who has been in Edmonton for some time. She is a member of the Alberta Liberal Women's Association. Mrs. de la Vergne is president of the provincial organization. She addressed a gathering Wednesday.

GRANDPARENTS ENJOY VISIT WITH YOUNG'UNS

FROM CUMBER, ONT., came Mrs. Howard T. Love and child, 11, two sisters, Mr. and Mrs. T. Love, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Love. The family, from the town of Cumby, Ontario, are enjoying their visit with grandparents, Howard, and his family.

BONNY SCOTTISH LASSIE CROSSES ATLANTIC

FIRST ON LIST of "Things to do" for visitor Mrs. Margaret Hastings was a band new per music. Mrs. Hastings, who arrived this week from her family's second home, plans to cross with her sister, Mrs. W. P. Lewis, for about three months. She's looking forward to a Canadian summer.

Community To Rescue

One immediate result of Edmonton's sudden development is the healthy growth of community leagues within the city limits.

With a wide-spread city such as Edmonton, there is definite need for collective units to keep citizens interested in improving their surroundings, their opportunities, their district facilities.

Housing schemes have produced entire new settlements where people are banded together in shopping centres, transportation vehicles, wish for civic aid in improving their properties. In all this the community league has proved to be a boon.

And it's a boon for fun, too.

When the high cost of living eliminates costly recreation from the householder's budget, some new relaxation must be found. And with skating parties, tea, card games, square dances, costume parties, scavenger hunts... the communities have come to the rescue.

HOLIDAY WEEK VISITOR HERE

CHOOSSES EDMONTON FOR HOME

SHOPPING GUIDE

Old-Season Spuds Tricked to Whiteness

By Ben Thrifty

With new-season vegetables lining the luxury shelves of local shops, we have to take a practical look at the matter of the budget.

With beef prices sky-rocketing 'way out of proportion . . . there's many a troubled mind in the menu. Mama wonders how the old manage to get away with it. Well, new potatoes at the very same meal. Most new-dial spuds are selling at the 10c per pound . . . and that's a lot of potatoes.

BRIDGE

Count The Cards To Win At Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Not long ago, I went over to the NBC studio to cut a recording for the Tex and Jim show. While there I met Robert Taylor, who also was recording as a guest on their program. We talked about Hollywood and westerns and cards and bridge.

Bob said he never played bridge. It's just a matter of counting. I

Answer is, of course, to make the best of a bad situation and tender your budget on beef.

But something worth knowing is that potatoes which darken in cooking need not be old. Frequently the blame may be placed right at the foot of the weather-man.

Dull days when the spuds are maturing may be one reason why your mashed potatoes tonight aren't a snowy white. Now I kind of think this is an interesting tidbit, don't you?

And quite possibly, it'll agree that it's wonderful to have your green beans with endive, Chinese cabbage, new-season greens, radishes and cauliflower. . . .

Ooohoh . . . the reason I started that long tirade about new 'old' spuds is that I intended to tell you of a remedy for the latter.

Seems that, if friend home-maker adds a touch of vinegar to the water in which she boils her potatoes . . .

to every two cups . . . the finished product will turn out really, tasty and milky-white.

I was happy to jump little dam to receive a letter from a friend who's living among the jolly bachelors in jail of the . . .

She has a fine story to tell about new potatoes being shown for certain brands.

She tells of aluminum doors that roll up . . .

changes of storm windows and screens . . .

a faucet that sets the water temperature . . .

in sure she was positively drooling over the new oven cause she proceeded to describe it in some detail.

Here's what the green-eyed gal said . . .

"I would stop all my silly cake failures. It has a glass door so I wouldn't be tempted to open it and peek in at the temperamental cake every few moments."

A housewife's control and a bright light so you may watch the cooking process would bake cakes to make my conservative husband go 'ho-ho-ho' American in his enthusiasm. Oh . . . how I'd love to have one like that!

Now, much the young mother thinks she knows about the actual physical care of a baby, she is bound, when the baby is new, to be confused about controversial questions.

One of the top questions is: To do with whether a baby should be picked up when he cries. Older mothers will say: Never. New mothers will say: Always.

Tobe on Fashion—

A New Golf Fashion—The Knee Length Dress or Skirt

Yes, there is really a smart new fashion in golf clothes at last—one that has been accepted by match-play golfers. It is the very short skirt—short enough to clear the knees.

These new short lengths appear both in golf dresses and in separate little golf skirts, and I think it's just what the young golfer especially has been waiting for.

The smartest short dresses have tops that look like T-shirts—some in knitted fabrics—some in the same fabric as the rest of the dress, but with knitted neck and waist bands. And, of course, they are either sleeveless or with a mere suggestion of a cap, following the big bare-arm vogue.

These are to be used at social functions.

Sunflower girls of Brownvale made final arrangements for the luncheon and tea. Approns were passed in for the luncheon

Sincerely,

Ground Planning Ideal For Winter Evenings

Winter nights provide an opportunity to plan the home grounds. Start with a sketch made more or less to scale and preserve it for future reference. The plan will develop but without a definite record of distances, material, etc., confusion will result. These become mislead and objectives are forgotten. Make the plan the permanent record of your plantings.

Boundary lines, determined by the country, a list of nurseries and plantings, should be drawn. The plan will develop but without a definite record of distances, material, etc., confusion will result. These become mislead and objectives are forgotten. Make the plan the permanent record of your plantings.

Heavy plantings of all trees varying in form should provide the background and screen any unsightly views. Distinct evergreens and deciduous trees should be planted in a manner that the lawn will not be treated in making golf courses, etc.

'PERFECT HOUSE' TOLD ABOUT IN MAGAZINE

Latest issue of "Equipe" magazine has devoted 10 pages depicting the perfect house, and we would like to tell you a little about it.

Some of the devices used to provide comfort taken one at a time, are practicable enough. For instance, to open a window you push a button. A motor lowers the shade and at the same time pulls a screen down from its slot in the wall or ceiling above.

THREE LEVELS
The whole house consists of three levels. Just to mention a natural sleeping spot. There is a place to tuck away your helicopter under the house beside the car.

CHANGE COLOR
You can change the color of one of the big panels making up one of the walls, acoustical baffles, by touching a button which turns them around. There are electric eye systems of automatically adjusting the angle of the lamp which reflect the solar heat in hot weather. The heating system reverses as cooling device when needed.

Society Aims At Furniture, Woods Study

OTTAWA, April 15—Dean J. W. B. Siam of the University of Toronto School of Forestry has accepted presidency of a newly-formed national society, The Canadian Institute of Forest Products.

The institute, which has been created to promote research and development in forest products industries, will have eight other leaders in industry and research to serve as executive committee with Dean Siam.

First vice-president is T. A. McKinnay, formerly of the Forest Products Laboratory, Ottawa, and A. D. Macpherson of Canadian National Laboratory, Montreal, will serve as second vice president.

The institute will be primarily concerned with development in sawmilling, timber construction, plywood and veneers, furniture and other secondary wood industries, fibre and insulation, wood preservation, utilization of wood waste and chemical products from wood.

British Fair Will Feature Pottery Machine
A pottery making machine of revolutionary design will be shown at the British Industries Fair by a Staffordshire firm.

Called the Miller Flat Ware Making machine, it incorporates a method entirely new in the history of pottery manufacture and gives approximately twice the output of the older type machine—about 11 saucers a minute.

This firm also produces a cup making machine which turns out 7 cups a minute of the highest quality and only needs one person to operate it.

Firm is already exporting to Canada flat making machines capable of producing seven saucers or 4-in. plate, six 6-in. five 7-in. or four 8-in. plates per minute.

SQUINTPROOF CEILING BEST

A squint-proof, luminous ceiling, designed to ease eye strain under artificial light, has been developed by Brown University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology engineers.

A translucent plastic ceiling diffuses a shadowless glow of illumination from concealed fluorescent lights. The ease on the eyes is attributed to the lack of eye adjustment necessary under uniform lighting of all parts of a room. The eyes are not confronted with a variety of light intensities.

With the mirror, motorists can see both sides of the road as well as directly to the rear, eliminating the need for planning over the shoulder in traffic.

The mirrors are set in a metal frame at various angles to provide the continuous view rearward. The inventor, Charles L. Bennett of Chicago, adapted the 70-square-inch mirror from a wartime model he produced for aircraft.

New Bumper Keeps Doors From Walls

If a door bumper is broken, the wall can be protected by this improved bumper until a new one can be obtained.

Cut one of the flanged ends from a thread spool and fasten it to the baseboard with a long wood screw. Then, simply press a cushion tip, if available, or a short piece of hose, over the end of the spool. Using the cushion tip and pinning the exposed portion of the spool, install a suitable bumper that will give long service in proportion to its extremely small cost.

When a cesspool is drained directly from the surface of the water, the drain is likely to become clogged with muck, causing the cesspool to back up and overflow.

To overcome this condition, install a down pipe on the end of the drain so that the open end of the pipe is at least 6 ft. from the bottom of the cesspool.

In this way, only clear water is drained off, the solid matter floating to the top of the water where it decomposes. Be sure that the horizontal run of tile is below frost level.

Small flower boxes on garage windows are easy to remove for painting or refilling. If they are hung with metal shelf brackets. Two brackets are used for each box. These are inverted and screwed in the top edge of the box ends and the holes in the upright arms are slipped over heavy screw hooks turned into the siding. The brackets are then secured with a screw. To be sure the brackets will clear the window sill allowing the box to hang straight, the box must be longer than the window frame.

Matproof storage of woollen yarn, gloves and other small items attained by placing the material together with several moth balls in a wax-paper sandwich bag.

The open end of the bag is sealed with cloth or cellulose tape. Not only are the contents of the bag protected in this way, but they are prevented from becoming breeding places for moths which are likely to infest larger garments.

If your concrete floor "dusts" wet it down with a solution of three pounds of zinc sulphate to a gallon of water. Pour this on and work it into the concrete. Let it dry, then brush clean. This will bind loose particles and harden the surface.

Reel-Mounted Leash Keeps Dog Checked

Dogs that have to be tied up are given considerable freedom by a leash on a self-winding reel. An 18-foot leash has a tension of slightly over one pound, not enough to hamper the dog's movements. The reel takes up or pays out the leash as the pet moves around.

Bigness Not Needed In Efficient Home Closets

By Bob Schaff

The closets in your home need not be large to be efficient. A small, well-planned closet generally is more useful than a large one that is arranged in a helter-skelter manner.

Any homeowner can plan better closets than he can be used to. The first thing to do is to take a long, hard look at the closets in the home. Light inside a closet is a considerable convenience. An ordinary, porcelain paint socket that can be plugged into the home electrical system will suffice. Locate the fixture where it will not interfere with hanging clothes on the shelves.

Many closets are not the right shape to get the maximum use out of the space in the closet. A long, narrow closet can be made efficient by splitting up into two closets or by adding a sliding door. A sliding door is a simple device that can be installed where wall space is at a premium.

At least one closet in every home should be matproofed. The matproofing of a cedar lumber is lasting and once done, the job does not have to be done over. Its installation involves no great amount of labor and its cost is low.

There are means for matproofing closets other than cedar lumber but they do not afford such lasting protection. They are in the form of a varnish or a combination of wax and oil. Paintbrushes are applied with a paintbrush to the walls; a special matproofing paint is sometimes hung in closets to prevent moths.

Painted shelves in closets are generally preferred, although of course a decorative effect is created by the use of painted shelves. Edges may be painted with a contrasting color, or ornamented with a narrow moldings in the wall. The inside of the door is also painted.

BEST TYPE SHINGLES NECESSARY IN ROOFING

Wood shingles make an excellent roof finish, providing high quality shingles are used and they are properly applied. Roof sheathing boards should be spaced slightly apart to permit ventilation to the underside of the shingles and prevent rotting.

The "pitch" or slope of the roof must be considered. For wood shingles the pitch should never be less than a six-inch vertical rise for each foot measured horizontally.

Shingles are available in 36, 38 and 40 inch lengths. The first two sizes should be laid with a maximum exposure of five and a half inches. The 40-inch shingles, which are thicker, may have an exposure of six and a half inches. If this exposure is also square the wood will be a thinner and shortened roof.

SHINGLES DOUBLED. Shingles should be doubled on the first course at the eaves and throughout the job care should be taken to ensure that nowhere are joints directly above one another. There should be a space of at least an eighth of an inch between the shingles. Use of rustproof nails is important. There should be placed on two faces will be covered by the next course.

Edmonton shingles are most satisfactory for roof finishing with a coat of stain will add years to their serviceability.

WATER IS BANISHED IN HOUSE CLEANING

From attic to basement you can clean without water. Dry-cleaning brush and shoe shining the surface, lightly, let as quick and again as those that have been cleaned in water. It is the paper, tin, furniture, venetian blinds, or things there is a cleaner for every job.

Handsome floors should never be washed as you do linoleum. They are cleaned with a fine cloth. Use a clean cloth. Strive to avoid water on the floor. Turn cloth frequently so as to use a clean surface. For a higher gloss, polish suede with a dry cloth, a weighted brush or a floor wax alone.

Way To Smooth
Surfaces of wood handles made extra smooth by rain and weathering are smoothed with fine sandpaper and linoleum. It operates as a scuffing device and ridges in about five minutes, although it takes about six hours to develop a regular smooth finish. In good for painted surfaces, too.

Consider these features before you buy WALLBOARD

For smooth, strong, beautiful walls and ceilings, this rigid extra tough surface with fine sandpaper and linoleum. It operates as a scuffing device and ridges in about five minutes, although it takes about six hours to develop a regular smooth finish. In good for painted surfaces, too.

THINK TWICE OF EXPANSION TYPE ATTIC

It may pay to think twice before planning a house with an expansion attic.

Will you ever finish off extra rooms upstairs, or will that prove to be just a dream while you pay $3 or $4 every month on your mortgage payment because of that extra room?

Architects have figured that the cost of carrying the additional weight required over a low raftered roof with more living space under the rafters.

Orange State Goes Modern In Housing

By RICHARD G. CUSHING

Ground hogging, flat-roofed, railroad-heated houses with broad expanses of glass are catching on along the west coast as never before.

Banks and Flia are coming to believe the so-called modern house is a safe risk, since it is more and more in demand. People are going along with imaginative young architects in acceptance of the unconventional. And, encouraged by the trend in the west architects with a flair for functionalism are turning what in a steady stream.

What are these modern houses? Although they differ widely, they all use more glass, more wood inside and out, and, most noticeably, make full use of the outdoors in the form of patios and sun decks. Many are built on concrete slabs, in which are buried networks of heating pipes. Most have flat roofs with overhangs to furnish shade.

In general the modern houses of the west coast are warm creations of redwood, brick, stone and glass, built with a great deal of casual outdoor living in mind. They hug the hillside, taking advantage of views.

EASY MAINTENANCE
The trend toward simplicity, ease of maintenance, easy cleaning, has found a ready acceptance in favor of a dining room, open-plan, kitchen, and living area, separated from the rest of the house by a low wall or a screen of glass. In areas of moderate climate the garage has largely vanished, as people can shelter taking it place.

Generally, modern architects in the west have been influenced by the new American movement, the so-called "California" movement, which has been spreading from the west coast to the rest of the country. In fact, many of the modern houses in the west are built in the "California" style, which is characterized by its use of glass, wood, and stone, and its emphasis on outdoor living.

Easily Hung Swing
Swinging in the doorway to a new residence for the last several years, and to meet this need a company has marketed a new swing-hung door from a factory that requires no screws or nails. The door pressure, the former is said.

Investment Opportunity Open In New Zealand

By J. G. Graham

WELLINGTON, N.Z., April 15.—(CP)—Many more opportunities for investment of private capital are opening up in New Zealand as a result of the change of government at the end of last year.

While the Labor Government believed that the major new opportunities would be in the form of state-owned enterprises, the new National Party government is offering development opportunities in the private sector.

An example is the state-owned pulp and paper plant, which is being developed at a site in the North Island, for the exportation of raw logs. The plant is being developed by the state-owned enterprise, the New Zealand Pulp and Paper Corporation.

The new government is also offering opportunities in the form of state-owned enterprises, such as the New Zealand Pulp and Paper Corporation, which is being developed at a site in the North Island.

AMERICAN INQUIRIES
Numerous inquiries have been received from American companies, which are interested in the possibilities of establishing new industries in New Zealand. Several large firms have been contacted.

One of the most important characteristics of the New Zealand market is the fact that it is a free market, with no restrictions on the importation of goods.

Another important characteristic is the fact that the New Zealand market is a growing market, with a high rate of population increase.

These factors, combined with the fact that the New Zealand market is a free market, with no restrictions on the importation of goods, make it an attractive market for American companies.

For more information, contact the New Zealand Pulp and Paper Corporation, which is being developed at a site in the North Island.

Atom To Influence Our Way Of Life

Research Chief Looks Ahead Over Coming Half-Century

By Douglas How

OTTAWA.—(CP)—The atom is bound to work fundamental changes in Canada's way of life in the last half of this century, says Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, head of the National Research Council and the Atomic Energy Control Board.

But it's anybody's guess what form these changes will take. Cautious, Dr. Mackenzie said in an interview:

1. Development of the technology of the atomic energy, which is the big job facing humanity in these decades. That way lies the hope of peace.

2. Atomic fuels should open up great new vistas of development at new sources of power already have.

3. Science is keenly alive and active on all fronts, and there is no reason to believe the next 50 years should not be an advance in aircraft, penicillin and insulin, radio, television, atomic energy, lead to medical and biological sciences that would transform these sciences. It could bring big changes.

4. Political men limit the impact of the atom on the world. Dr. Mackenzie foresaw technological advances doing much to raise the standards of living of the people and he considered that a vital factor in maintaining peace. But he couldn't see the atom should create any large settlement in the Canadian north.

"People go where they can live comfortably," he said. "Why should they want to go into the arctic when they can live and work, say, in southern Ontario?"

TWO APPROACHES
Broadly, the atom had opened up two main approaches to new horizons. One was a reservoir of energy and new sources of energy had always brought tremendous developments in their train. There was no need to consider the atom as a danger or menace to coal, oil or electricity. Those sources had not eliminated one another. They had proved complementary.

The second approach was through research. The atom could lead to medical and biological sciences that would transform these sciences. It could bring big changes.

A Message to all

NATURAL GAS CONSUMERS

PARTICULARLY

PARENTS

During the next few months Your Gas Company will be engaged in an extensive construction program in order to serve additional customers and to improve the present distribution system in the City of Edmonton.

This construction program will necessitate many miles of ditching. Every possible step will be taken to perform this work with as little inconvenience as possible to the citizens of Edmonton. Where it becomes necessary to close off some lanes or drive-ways for a few hours, we ask your indulgence and hope that the inconvenience will not be too great.

Some of these ditches may be quite deep, and, because work of this kind is always fascinating to children, we respectfully suggest that you warn your children to stay away from them.

A fall by a small child into one of these ditches might result in serious injury.

We appreciate the co-operation we have received from Edmonton citizens during past construction seasons and assure you of our constant desire to provide the best in natural gas service.

Nailing Machine Speeds Building

Builders in the area are now getting serious and quickly by pneumatic machine that drives nails at a rate of 40 to 50 nails per minute.

Working in a steady stream, the machine has a capacity of 40 to 50 nails per minute.

The operator steps on a foot pedal and the machine drives the nails into the wood. It is operated on a pneumatic line, the handles 7 1/2 and 10 pound nails driving them below the surface. It is desired.

A Chicago corporation is marketing a pneumatic nailer for driving nails into wood and concrete. It is a pneumatic machine that drives nails at a rate of 40 to 50 nails per minute.
